About Us:

31:8 Project works to equip and challenge society to proactively address issues regarding human trafficking starting right here in North Dakota. The name of our organization comes from the verse Proverbs 31:8 – speak up for those who cannot speak for themselves. We are honored to partner with and educate schools, faith-based groups, the medical community, law enforcement, and other organizations. Through our work, we are on track to reach over 25,000 people in 2019 through presentations, trainings, webinars, and community projects. To learn more about our organization, how you can get more involved and any upcoming trainings, visit www.318project.org.
